Like any mother, Erica insists on keeping a watchful eye on her 6-year-old child. However, this became extremely difficult since she suffered from Kerateconus, a disease of the cornea that causes distorted vision. Erica could only clearly see things within an inch of her eyes and was unable to see shapes or shadows.

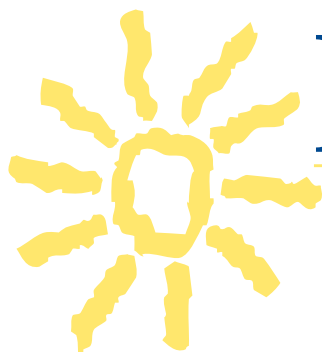

Since being diagnosed, Erica has received cornea transplants that have restored her vision. She is grateful to her donors and will always respect their gifts that have enabled her to lead a normal life and see her child.

Please join the Organ/Tissue Donor Registry today and give someone else a second chance at life.
