are YOU registered to be an organ/tissue donor **?

"I find this need in my heart to comfort other donor families, yet I relish in the joy of those recipients who are given a second chance at life through organ donation."

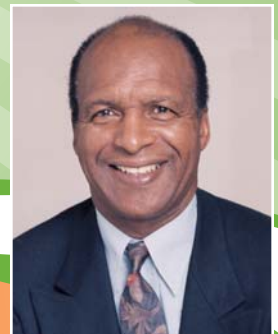

When Gail Woodward decided to donate her 3-year-old son Keaton's organs, she found herself among a very special group of people — other donor families who had lost loved ones and made a very important decision to donate their loved one's organs and tissue. Since then, Gail has made it her mission to educate others about the critical need for organ and tissue donation.

Seven years after Keaton's death, Gail met the young boy who received Keaton's liver. "That was the day my life began to change for the better. It was a day of sorrow and joy, healing and bonding."

Please join the Organ/Tissue Donor Registry today.
